Pauline Coombe

Born	c.1966
Language	Yankunytjatjara
Region	Alice Springs, NT

Pauline Coombe is an artist belonging to the Yankunytjatjara language and cultural group. Pauline lives in the remote community of Apatula (Finke) in the Northern Territory with her family and is a dedicated and loving mother and grandmother.

She has worked with NPY Women's Council for over 20 years and is a strong spokesperson for her region.

Pauline really enjoys the weaving process and employs great skill and attention to detail in her beautiful pieces with bold use of colour and intricate stitching. She is always looking to challenge herself and make new and interesting Tjanpi fibre works such as hanging baskets, teacups, and elaborate birds.
